The Cape Town Art Fair returns for the fifth year – running from February 17 – 19 at the Cape Town International Convention Centre (CTICC). Yet again it will host the best of contemporary African art from classic Capetonian galleries including STEVENSON, Goodman Gallery and Gallery MOMO but will also draw talent from further afield.

This means that the roster of artists promises to be extremely exciting. In charge of curation is Tumelo Mosaka, a South African who is 'deeply committed to advancing the ways in which contemporary art stimulates and challenges our world views'. As part of his curation, he has selected the emerging artists whose solo presentations will feature in the exhibition Todays/Tomorrow. Serge Attukwei Clottey is just one of the names promised.

There will also be work from Cape Town it-girl, stylist and artist Tony Gum, British-Nigerian artist Yinka Shonibare and South African photographer Mohau Modisakeng.

'Ga Etsho 1', 2015, Mohau Modisakeng

'Champagne Kid (Fallen)', 2013, Yinka Shonibare

'Indian Lady, Tony Gum
